

SCHOOL OF MUSIC PERFORMANCE SPACES

For Student Recitals:

- Note the space codes (e.g. WG200). These will correspond with the Meeting Room Booking System (MRBS) which you will reference in order to select your recital day/time preferences.
- IMPORTANT: All student recitals are required to produce a high-quality audio recording. If performing in a space other than Weigel Auditorium or Timashev Recital Hall, you will be responsible for producing your own recording.

WEIGEL AUDITORIUM — WG200

The primary and largest auditorium in the School of Music and is the home to performances by all large student ensembles, small opera productions, major events and recitals.

Capacity: 720

Piano: Steinway grand

Amenities: Livestream and audio recording capability. Two wireless microphones

Limitations: Currently, this auditorium does not have video or computer integration support.

TIMASHEV RECITAL HALL — N120

This auditorium is the second largest space in the School of Music and will be the primary home for piano recitals. Ideal for more intimate chamber and solo performances such as student/faculty/guest artist recitals, jazz combos as well as smaller studio and ensemble performances.

Capacity: 195

Piano: Two Steinway grand pianos

Amenities: Livestream and audio recording capability. Offers smart classroom style podium with computer, audio and video projection support, and two wireless microphones.

ENSEMBLE REHEARSAL/PERFORMANCE HALL — N160

Open concept, multi-purpose space located on the first floor, in the center of the building.

Featuring one wall, almost entirely glass, allowing passers-by a full view of activity. Serves as a rehearsal space for large ensembles and unique performance opportunities.

Capacity: Configurable to seat up to a 100-member ensemble or 80-member audience.

Piano: Grand piano

Amenities: Features a multi-channel surround sound audio system, built-in large projection screen, smart classroom style podium with computer, and limited live streaming capability.

Limitations: Currently, audio recording capability may be limited. Any video projection needs would require adding a projector on a per event basis.
