Music Minor

The Music Minor requires only 15 credit hours and is an excellent opportunity for students in other majors to pursue their passion for music.

Students will select from a variety of music history and music theory courses, may participate in an ensemble, study music technology and/or take private lessons (with instructor permission).

Music, Media and Enterprise Minor

Through the Music, Media and Enterprise Minor, students develop a multidisciplinary perspective on the role of music in commerce and society.

The minor consists of 15 credit hours, most of which are required music and business courses. The remaining hours are electives, allowing students to explore music, business, audio engineering or communication.

Ensembles

All Ohio State students are encouraged to participate in School of Music ensembles! Auditions are usually held the first week of classes; several ensembles have open enrollment.

DID YOU KNOW? Some ensembles have variable credit hours, between .5 and 2, which allows you to participate without exceeding 18 hours per semester.

School of Music Concerts and Events

The School of Music presents 150+ student, faculty and guest artist performances, master classes, lectures and more each year. All are open to the public and most are FREE.

Of course, 2020–2021 will be a bit different. We'll still be making music, but in new and different ways. Watch for us on our YouTube Channel.

Details will be posted at music.osu.edu/events

General Education Courses

The School of Music offers courses that fulfill General Education (GE) requirements. Consult your college's GE list and/or your academic advisor to confirm which courses are currently offered and if they will satisfy requirements.

Sample Courses:

Music Cultures of the World • The World of Classical Music • Film Music • The Beatles in 20th Century Music • History of Rock 'n' Roll (rated "Best GE Course" by The Lantern) • Music, Body and Brain • Introduction to Jazz • and many more!

Not all classes are offered each semester. Check the course catalog.

Private Lessons for Non-Majors

Private applied lessons are available for some instruments. Non-majors interested in lessons must receive permission from the studio professor. Visit music.osu.edu and browse PEOPLE for each professor's contact information.

Instructional fees will apply.
